AN

ODE ON HANDEL

Performed at the Commemoration Dinner

MAY 26TH 1785 ADDRESS'D TO

The EARL of EXETER, The EARL of SANDWICH,
The EARL of UXBRIDGE, SIR WATKIN WMS WYNN BART
— AND SIR RICHD JEBB BART —

By Benj.a Cooke Mus. D.

Price 6d.

Printed for J. Bell, N.o 127 Pall Mall.

ODE TO HANDEL,

BY THE REV. DR. SCOTT,

ON THE

Anniverſary of his Commemoration.

I.

SWEET Harmoniſt, whoſe Sounds controul
The various Movements of the Soul:
  Now with Joy and Tranſport fire us;
  Or with tender Grief inſpire us;
  Or awake ſeraphic Love,
  Such as Angels feel above!—
But ſee what Magic holds the liſt'ning Throng!
  The very Soul is turn'd to Ear,
While the full Tides of Muſic pour along,
  Majeſtic, deep, and clear.

II.

Hail ſweet Enchanter of the Soul,
Long ſhall we own thy ſoft Controul,
  And as returns this feſtive Day,
  To Thee our free Libations pay!
  We'll chant thy Praiſe in merry Glee,
  Wrapt up in Harmony and Thee!
Nor ſhall the Praiſes we beſtow be vain—
  By Praiſes, ſuch as Britons give,
Age and Decrepitude forget their Pain,
  Decay'd Muſicians live.—

ODE.
